HERO ACADEMY

Selected Curriculum & Instructional Design Portfolio Sample

Adapted from the original Hero Academy Master Journal · Summer 2026

Program mission

Inside these pages, heroes will discover who they are, where they come from, what they believe, and the kind of person they want to become.

Through missions, challenges, research, family history, scripture study, creativity, and storytelling, heroes will build a complete Hero Story and learn that true strength comes from character.

Learning areas

- Reading, writing, research, and critical thinking
- Art, music, design, and creative storytelling
- Movement, exercise, and healthy habits
- Faith, character, and service
- DNA, geography, and family history

What learners create

A Hero Profile · A Homeland · A Symbol · A Motto · Powers and Abilities · Mentors and Allies · Villains and Challenges · A Complete Hero Story · A Legacy Poster · A Record of the Learning Journey

Portfolio note: This is a curated, reformatted sample of the original journal. Learner names have been omitted; the complete family edition has not been published.

How the journal works

Every week you will receive a Mission Briefing.

The Mission Briefing will tell you:

• Which section of the journal to work on

• Reading Missions

• Art Missions

• Music Missions

• Movement Missions

• Research Missions

You do not need to complete the entire journal at once. Complete only the missions assigned for the week.

Recurring instructional structure

Mission Objective

This explains what you are learning.

Required Mission

Everyone completes this part.

Hero Expansion (Optional)

Extra challenges for heroes who want to go deeper.

Story Builder

Questions that help build your hero story.

Hero Decision Challenge

Situations that help you think about choices and consequences.

Art Challenge

Hero Journal Entry

One concept, different levels of guidance

The original journal contains two individually named sets of missions. This portfolio sample replaces their names with descriptive labels.

Guided activities

Additional supports, sentence starters, and guided questions.

Advanced activities

Expanded writing prompts, deeper reflection, and advanced story development.

Example: Hero personality

Required Mission: Choose at least 3 words.

Personality Traits

Brave · Kind · Honest · Loyal · Creative · Curious · Patient · Determined · Helpful · Funny · Calm · Adventurous · Responsible · Thoughtful · Wise

Guided mission (original question)

Why did you choose these traits?

Sentence Starter: My hero is _____ because _____.

Advanced mission (original question)

Explain how these traits affect your hero's decisions.

Example: Hero strengths

Choose at least 3 strengths.

Courage · Leadership · Kindness · Intelligence · Creativity · Determination · Teamwork · Faith · Honesty · Athletic Ability · Problem Solving

Guided mission (original question)

Which strength helps your hero the most? Why?

Responsible AI use: AI Sidekick Guide

AI should help you think. AI should not do your thinking for you.

Step 1: Think First

Try to answer the question yourself.

Step 2: Ask For Help

If you get stuck, ask AI for ideas.

Step 3: Read Carefully

Read the answer. Think about it.

Step 4: Write Your Own Version

Use your own words. Add your own ideas.

Step 5: Make It Better

Add details. Add creativity. Make it yours.

Examples of discouraged uses

• Copying and pasting answers

• Having AI answer every question

• Having AI write your entire story

• Using AI without reading the answer

Closing principle

AI is a tool. Your imagination is the real superpower.

Content selections preserve the original journal's educational framing, including its optional faith-based and family-history components. The selected text has been reformatted for portfolio viewing.
